

Outsmart the Bad Guy

Active Shooter Survival Guide

Quick actions can save lives, use this checklist to stay prepared and protect yourself and others.

1. Stay ready, and get your ducks in a row.

- ☐ Always know two exits in any location, including windows (if on the 3rd floor or lower).
- ☐ Recognize the sound of gunfire and be ready to act immediately.
- Train with Atlantic Training's Active Shooter Preparedness Course for expert guidance.

2. Think fast, and especially act faster.

- ☐ RUN if it's safe. Move unpredictably, stay low, and keep hands visible.
- ☐ HIDE if running isn't an option. Barricade doors, silence your phone, and stay out of sight.
- Build your team's confidence with Atlantic Training's Workplace Safety Programs.

3. Fighting should be your last and final option.

- ☐ Use improvised weapons like fire extinguishers, chairs, or tools.
- ☐ Work as a team to disarm the shooter if possible and attack from behind or the sides.
- Learn more about handling high-risk situations with Atlantic Training's Emergency Plans Courses.

4. Don't make the cops guess, help them help you.

- ☐ Provide 911 operators with clear details: shooter location, description, and weapons.
- ☐ Follow officer instructions, avoid distractions, and keep your hands raised and visible.
- Ensure your team knows what to do. Get started optimizing your safety training programs today.
